

University of California, Irvine
The Center for Ethnography and The Center in Law, Society and Culture, and The Department of Anthropology

cordially invite you to

A Dialogue between the Anthropologies of Law and Public Policy

with

Donald Brenneis
Professor of Anthropology,
University of California Santa Cruz

and

Carol Greenhouse
Professor of Anthropology
Princeton University

The last few years have seen a rapidly growing interest in the anthropology of public policy. Legal anthropology is a longstanding subfield of the discipline, but one in which policy is a relatively minor theme. Despite the obvious connections between law and policy, to date those at the forefront of policy anthropology are developing it with little reference to work in legal anthropology. On March 17, UCI will host a conversation between the two subfields to see how they might work more closely together to promote the anthropological understanding of the making, working, and broad effects of public policy.

Monday, March 17, 2008
HRI Conference Room 338 - 10:00 am to 4:00 pm

Light Lunch Provided
Please RSVP by Monday, March 10, 2008 to Sandy Cushman 949-824-3344 or scushman@uci.edu

For more information about the Center and its events, go to:
<http://www.socsci.uci.edu/~ethnog/>